

FFCOM Contract Terms and Conditions

Sample Question: Will the Fed [decision] and [dissent outcome] at the [date] meeting?

Variables: [decision]: The change, if any, in the federal funds target range announced by the Federal Open Market Committee at the specified meeting. [dissent outcome]: The specified outcome relating to qualifying dissents from the federal funds target range decision, such as whether any members dissented or the number of members who dissented. [date]: The date of the Federal Open Market Committee meeting specified in the Contract.

Product Code: FFCOM

Instructions: The Federal Funds Target Range is published by the Federal Open Market Committee (“FOMC”). The FOMC holds eight regularly scheduled meetings each year, where, among other things, it determines the target range for the federal funds rate and votes on the associated monetary policy action. The schedule of meeting dates is available here, and the FOMC statement announcing the target range and voting results is generally released at 1:00 PM CT at the conclusion of each scheduled meeting. This Contract is not subject to early Resolution.

Underlying: The Fed Decision Combo Forecast Contract is resolved based upon the combination of (i) the change in the federal funds target range announced by the Federal Reserve at the conclusion of the designated scheduled FOMC meeting, and (ii) whether the dissent outcome specified in the Contract occurs during that same designated FOMC meeting. The Underlying can be accessed here, where the meeting statements are available. Only the official Federal Funds Target Range and voting results announced by the FOMC at the conclusion of the scheduled meeting shall be used to resolve the Contract.

The voting results are provided in the final paragraph of that statement. Any dissenting members will be listed following the phrase: “Voting against this action were...” Members who are absent or listed as not voting are not considered dissenting voters. The Contract will resolve based on whether the type of dissent described in the Contract occurred during that meeting. This may include, for example, whether any members dissented or how many members dissented, though these are examples and not a complete list of possible dissent-related conditions.

Only dissents explicitly indicating a different preferred target range for the federal funds rate will be counted. Members listed as voting against the action for reasons unrelated to the federal funds rate decision (e.g., statement language, forward guidance, or policy bias) will not be considered dissenting voters.

If the Outcome of the Contract is “No”, then holders of the “No” Position will be entitled to receive the Settlement Value of $1.00 per contract and holders of the “Yes” Position will receive $0.00.

Resolution Time: 1:00 PM CT at the conclusion of the FOMC meeting specified in the Contract.

Changes in Resolution Time: The Resolution Time of a Forecast Contract is dependent on the time that the Source Agency releases the Underlying data. There are circumstances in which ForecastEx will change the Resolution Time of a Contract as described below:

1. Delay by Source Agency: If the Source Agency delays the release of the underlying data required for Resolution, ForecastEx will delay the Resolution Time of the Contract until such data is released. In these circumstances, ForecastEx will release a public notice to its website informing Market Participants that the Resolution of the Contract has been delayed and release a second notice to its website informing Market Participants when the Contract is resolved.
2. Change in Release Schedule: ForecastEx sets the Resolution Time of each Contract based on either the published or anticipated release schedule of the Source Agency for the underlying data. If the Source Agency amends its release schedule or announces that it will publish the underlying data at a different time than anticipated, ForecastEx may, at its sole discretion, amend the Resolution Time of the Contract to match the updated release schedule when doing so is necessary to ensure the accurate and fair resolution of the contract. In these circumstances, ForecastEx will publish a public notice to its website informing Market Participants of the revised Resolution Time.
3. Event Review Process: In accordance with ForecastEx Rule 415, ForecastEx may, at its sole discretion, initiate the event review process prior to Settlement which may delay the Resolution of a Contract. In these cases, ForecastEx will publish a public notice to its website informing Market Participants that the Contract’s Outcome is under review.
4. Early Resolution: If a Forecast Contract Resolves based on whether a specific event occurs before a defined point in time, it will be subject to early resolution. For these Contracts, if the Outcome of the contract becomes determinable prior to the scheduled Resolution Time – either because the event has occurred (resolving “Yes”) or because it can no longer occur (resolving “No”) – ForecastEx may, at its sole discretion accelerate the Resolution Time of the Contract in accordance with ForecastEx Rule 413. Whether or not this Contract is subject to early resolution is specified in the Instructions section.

Expiration Time: Same as Resolution time.

Settlement Date: Unless the Outcome of the Contract is under review in accordance with ForecastEx Rule 415, Settlement of the Contract will occur no later than the day following Expiration Time.

Trading Restrictions: In accordance with ForecastEx Rule 509(h), persons are prohibited from participating in Fed Decision Combo Forecast Contracts if they: possess any material non-public information regarding the Contract, are employees of the Source agency, or are decision-makers, who directly or indirectly have any influence on the Outcome of the Contract.
