

NP Contract Terms and Conditions

Sample Question: Will [company] announce a new [position] appointment by [date]?

Product Code: NP[one letter position code][two letter company code]

Instructions: The company appointment announcements are typically published by publicly traded companies through official announcements or regulatory disclosures. These announcements are released through public channels such as corporate press releases, stock exchange notices, or filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”). This contract is subject to early Resolution.

Underlying: The Underlying is official announcement by [Company] or SEC filing confirming the appointment of a new [position] . ForecastEx will resolve the Executive Appointment Forecast Contracts by referencing authoritative confirmations, including SEC filings such as Form 8-K or Form 6-K, stock exchange notices, government or regulatory publications, and official company press releases. If a company or regulatory authority confirms an interim, acting, or temporary appointment to one of the covered positions, ForecastEx will treat this as confirmation of the appointment, and the contract will resolve “Yes.” However, if a temporary or acting executive assumes responsibilities only while the incumbent is on a defined leave of absence, sabbatical, or medical leave with a clear intention to return, the contract will not resolve “Yes.” If the company later announces that the incumbent will not return and that the executive position will be filled on either a temporary or permanent basis, the contract will resolve “Yes.”

Changes in Resolution Time: The Resolution Time of a Forecast Contract is dependent on the time that the Source Agency releases the Underlying data. There are circumstances in which ForecastEx will change the Resolution Time of a Contract as described below:

1. Delay by Source Agency: If the Source Agency delays the release of the underlying data required for Resolution, ForecastEx will delay the Resolution Time of the Contract until such data is released. In these circumstances, ForecastEx will release a public notice to its website informing Market Participants that the Resolution of the Contract has been delayed and release a second notice to its website informing Market Participants when the Contract is resolved.
2. Change in Release Schedule: ForecastEx sets the Resolution Time of each Contract based on either the published or anticipated release schedule of the Source Agency for the underlying data. If the Source Agency amends its release schedule or announces that it will publish the underlying data at a different time than anticipated, ForecastEx may, at its sole discretion, amend the Resolution Time of the Contract to match the updated release schedule when doing so is necessary to ensure the accurate and fair resolution of the contract. In these circumstances, ForecastEx will publish a public notice to its website informing Market Participants of the revised Resolution Time.
3. Event Review Process: In accordance with ForecastEx Rule 415, ForecastEx may, at its sole discretion, initiate the event review process prior to Settlement which may delay the Resolution of a Contract. In these cases, ForecastEx will publish a public notice to its website informing Market Participants that the Contract's Outcome is under review.
4. Early Resolution: If a Forecast Contract Resolves based on whether a specific event occurs before a defined point in time, it will be subject to early resolution. For these Contracts, if the Outcome of the contract becomes determinable prior to the scheduled Resolution Time – either because the event has occurred (resolving “Yes”) or because it can no longer occur (resolving “No”) – ForecastEx may, at its sole discretion, accelerate the Resolution Time of the Contract in accordance with ForecastEx Rule 413. Whether or not this Contract is subject to early resolution is specified in the Instructions section.

Expiration Time: Same as Resolution time.

Settlement Date: Unless the Outcome of the Contract is under review in accordance with ForecastEx Rule 415, Settlement of the Contract will occur no later than the day following Expiration Time.

Trading Restrictions: In accordance with ForecastEx Rule 509(h), persons are prohibited from participating in Executive Appointment Forecast Contracts if they: possess any material non-public information regarding the Contract, are employees of the Source agency, or are decisionmakers, who directly or indirectly have any influence on the Outcome of the Contract.
